Newsletter 2-2025

Commitment rate achieved

By Anton Schulz

At the end of March, I sent out a request asking whether the recipients could respond positively to the question if they would participate in UHS-2025 (30/9-2/10 - 2025). The success criterion was that if at least 10 responded positively, we would continue planning UHS-2025. At the time of writing, we now have a commitment from 9 projects/cars, which is considered being enough to continue.

The point of no return

On this basis, I have decided to implement UHS-2025 as planned. This is a point of no return for us, so if you have been in doubt about whether you should sign up, there is now no reason to hesitate. UHS-2025 will become a reality.

We have also informed our partners, where we have reserved rooms and overnight accommodations that the planning of UHS-2025 will continue as planned.

New readers can start here

UHS has contact with around 100 enthusiasts across Europe, and we are currently expanding the network by identifying new potential contacts as recipients of our newsletter.

Some of these are working on projects that are so interesting that they will also receive a personal invitation to participate in UHS-2025. If this is the first newsletter you have received from us, if we find your car project within the framework of The International Festival for UNIQUE HANDBUILT SPORTSCARS, you will also have received a personal invitation to participate in UHS-2025 at the same time.

uniquehandbuilt.com

On our website, you can find information about what UHS-2021 was like, and you can also watch videos about the projects we presented at UHS-2021.

The ambitions for UHS-2025

Our ambition is to be able to present around 20 car projects at UHS-2025, which are either fully built or in progress as projects. For us, it is not crucial that it is a completed project. The other participants and the audience are equally interested in seeing the ideas behind the projects and the techniques with which the creators realize their dreams of creating their own sports or racing car.

The goal of being able to present around 20 projects is realistic to achieve, but it at the same time signals that the places as participants in the festival itself are also limited, so if you go with the dream of showing your car project to others than your family, who have given up on you as a dreamer and fantasist, then UHS-2025 is the right place to meet like-minded people, gather knowledge and experiences, and show a larger audience what you can achieve if you have the idea and the will to implement it.

UHS-2025 - a unique opportunity to meet likeminded

Prior to UHS-2021 we had a promising communication with manufacturers within the scope of race- and sports cars, as we thought that both the event and the manufacturers could benefit from their participation in an event solely focusing on their product niche.

At that time some naturally had a certain reticence with the regard to participate in UHS-2021, however no one rejected the idea categorically. Some even said that they would seriously consider their participation if we would repeat the event sometime in the future.

That's exactly what we will.

Therefore we this time will send invitations to two segments namely the manufacturers of hand built race- and sports cars or parts for these, and individuals building projects for their own use. Our aim is to have a 50/50 pct. representation from these two segments.

We hope you - individual or company - will catch this opportunity to participate in a unique event for enthusiasts with passion for unique hand built sports cars. Go to uniquehandbuilt.com for more details and registration.

UNIQUEHANDBUILT.COM

Uniquehandbuilt.com will be our official domain going forward. If you type the domain in your browser, you will get to our current UHS website, which contains background material such as newsletters, articles and videos produced in the run-up to UHS2021.

The site is the primary focal point for all communication for UHS and thus also for UHS-2025.

However, the site also contains facilities that can support a social network as an alternative to Facebook. As a guest, you can access the page and read about UHS, but as a member of Club-UHS you get access to the members' area and thus more facilities. As a Club-UHS member, you can connect to other members, form groups, write your own blogs, participate in discussions, share photos and videos.

Business members also get the opportunity to create their own shops in the marketplace, as well as advertising space on the site once we have launched the new website.

All this leads to a much better opportunity to create a social network with a focus on our focus point - unique handbuilt sportscars - but without the many distracting elements that we are exposed to on Facebook and other social medias.
